Project at a Glance

Due to revolution in education system, use of computer has become more important and essential for student and their future life.

The most important benefit of computer is their practicability. A single machine allows students to calculate, to write grammatical corrections, editing & networking and use in all official works.

A proposal for ₹ 10.48 Lac was submitted by Sarvodaya Gram Vikas Sansthan, Jaise, distt. Raebareli which was sanctioned by the management committee of SEWA-THDC for ₹ 6.24 Lac.

Benefit from the Project

This Computer Training Program is organized mainly for minority educated youth. From this program 80 educated youth of Jaise and nearby area got benefitted. After getting the training all youth have become proficient in computer application and eligible for job, while earlier they are unaware about the computer education. Now the youth and their family are happy.
